If you have an item of news, please call up The Ledger, Telephone 33, and let us have it.

Mr. Charles H. Frank's property in Court street, known as the Eagle office building, has a changed appearance since coming out of the hands of the painter.

Tuesday while playing in the yard at his home in the East End, the 11-year-old son of Phil Eanis stepped on a piece of glass and cut a terrible gash in his foot.

Cox avenue, between Second and Front streets, is in admirable condition, clean as a pin, and all due to the work and efforts of Mr. William W. Willocks. How long it will continue so remains to be seen.

Contractor Wendt of Newport was here yesterday looking after the work on the ice piers. It will take seven large barges of rock in addition to the sand and cement to complete the piers. Each barge will contain 1,000 tons of rock.

Benjamin Fields, son of Mr. Allen Fields, near Washington, upon whom an operation for appendicitis was performed Tuesday, died last night at his home. He was about 25 years of age and was a very worthy young man. Interment tomorrow at Shannon.

Policeman Harry Ort, having in charge Emery and Davenport, the two men arrested here charged with robbery, left yesterday evening on the 4:15 C. and O. Accommodation for Newport, where the prisoners will be turned over to the Campbell county authorities.

In order to reduce a very large stock of cut glass tumblers, water pitchers, berry bowls, ice tubs, sugars and creams, we have made a great "reduction in price." We handle all the standard makes in cut glass.

P. J. MURPHY, the Jeweler.

The item in yesterday's LEDGER in regard to the C. and O. issuing orders to Agents not to sell tickets to points farther South than Memphis was somewhat misleading. Agents can sell the tickets to any Southern point, but purchasers are advised of certain conditions and take the risk of detention unless provided with a certificate demanded by authorities in their efforts to protect their cities and towns.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT

Particulars of Killing of W. D. Luman By Dr. C. E. Beach

Beyond the fact that Dr. C. E. Beach had shot and killed W. D. Luman at Escalopia Springs the day before, there were meager and imperfect particulars given in yesterday's LEDGER, owing to lack of telephone service.

The unfortunate affair occurred at noon Tuesday, and the details are from Dr. Beach himself, verified by Mr. Bruce T. Pugh, son of Hon. Sam. J. Pugh, and another gentleman, a guest at the Springs, and who were eye witnesses, their statements being given to The Vanceburg Sun.

W. D. Luman and another man, whose name was not learned, and a woman, drove into the sulphur lot at the Springs, and were warned by one of Beach's employees that no one was allowed to hitch there.

They defied him, and he reported to Dr. Beach, who went out and in a gentlemanly manner informed them that they were on private property and requested them to move out.

The men, who were intoxicated and had been acting unruly before, defied him to put them out and started at him.

Dr. Beach then retreated to the house and secured his 43-caliber Colt's revolver and came back on the porch.

Luman followed to the gate and started to enter, when Beach warned him that he would do so at the risk of his life.

The other man then climbed out of the buggy and started to join Luman, who advanced with a big club in his hand and with his other hand behind him, whereupon Dr. Beach fired and the ball struck Luman above the left eye and he fell to the ground. Dr. Beach stated that he had no intention of firing, but only raised the gun to frighten and fired before he knew it, the gun having a hair trigger.

When he saw what he had done he was overcome and told his people to do all they could for the man. They took him into the shade and made every effort to save him, and he was still alive when Dr. Beach left for Vanceburg to give himself up to the officers, but he died in a short time.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Donations may be left at The Ledger Office, and all sums, however small, will be gratefully accepted.

If you think Ohio Traction Stock doesn't pay, suppose you step down to Cincinnati and try to buy some. It is bid to 106½, and holders ask 107½.

ANOTHER epidemic of progress is found in the great number of people who know just how to run a newspaper, but who are, unfortunately, engaged in other business.

IF Colonel WITTE doesn't want Field Marshal OYAMA to eat his Christmas turkey in St. Petersburg, he'd best settle pretty soon on the amount to be paid the Japanese as indemnity.

It is stated at Portsmouth—New Hampshire, not Ohio,—that in one day the Peace Envoys sent $19,000 worth of cable dispatches to their Governments. If the conference lasts very long there won't be enough left to pay indemnity.

THE latest news from the war in the Far East says the Russians are hot-footing it toward Siberia, with the Japanese following as fast as they can. A few more such movements and Mr. WITTE may reconsider his declarations as to indemnity.

PROMPTED no doubt by Democratic politicians the Negroes of Lexington have demanded certain places on the Republican ticket in Fayette county. It goes without saying that the demand will be refused; and then look out for a Democratic ticket with a colored man on it —Nit!

In going through the effects of Holtzman & Co., the "busted" and absconding Brokers of Cincinnati, the Trustee found $1.24 in cash. Just how the members of the firm overlooked that much ready wealth will probably remain as much a mystery as the Man who smote Colonel WILLIAM PATTERSON.

ACCORDING to a statement from the Department of Public Safety, there are 60,000 fraudulent names on the voting list in Philadelphia. There is no doubt a proportionate number in every large city in the country, and the "Trust Busters" would do some real beneficial work if they would break up the Voting Trust.

THE saloon-keeper is entitled to equal protection with every other law-abiding citizen; and the recent city ordinance punishing minors for loitering in barrooms and in some cases perjury themselves in order to get whisky, is a step in the right direction. Don't make a victim of one law-breaker and let the other go; whack it to both.

ANOTHER Prohibition idol has been smashed. Asbury Park, N. J., which for years has been famous as a temperance town, will hereafter be "wet." All the Ministers opposed the granting of license, but Council passed the ordinance. The Mayor favored the ordinance as the only way of enforcing the law and preserving order; which sounds strange, inasmuch as it is claimed that Prohibition prevents law-breaking and disorder.

Breckinridge News.

We take off our hat to any man who rises above his party, be he Democrat or Republican. It is this kind of stuff in the man that makes for the country's good. REMOVES THE ODOR OF PERSPIRATION.

One of the greatest helps to comfort in warm weather is a good toilet powder. Perspiration causes the skin to become tender and sore, and a soothing, healing powder dusted on will relieve the prickling and burning sensation.

CHENOWETH'S TOILET POWDER

Is something we can highly recommend. It is pure and free from injurious chemicals that are found in many toilet powders. It removes the odor of perspiration, which feature alone should appeal to particular people. It is fine and soft and imparts to the skin a delightful coolness.

The Alice Brown, which left New Orleans after the outbreak of yellow fever, passed Cairo Tuesday, on her way to Pittsburgh.

Although "dry time" is usually at hand this time of the year, the stage of water has been such that the local packets are running on excellent time and enjoying good business.

Heavy rains have fallen at all points at the headwaters of the rivers of both the Pennsylvania and West Virginia districts. This condition results in an almost continuous packet stage during the present month and a towboat stage within the next few days.

The Williams, sunk at the Sisters, was built in Pittsburgh in 1876 and was 210 feet long, 40 feet beam, drew 6.5 feet, and her net tonnage was 801. From her launching until the Sprague was built, she had the distinction of being the biggest towboat on any river in the world, and her feat of taking a tow of fifty-two pieces from Pittsburgh to New Orleans has only been excelled by the Sprague herself. At the time she sunk she was bringing a tow of lumber and empties up the river.

A Warning to Mothers.

Too much care cannot be used with small children during the hot weather of the summer months to guard against bowel troubles. As a rule it is only necessary to give the child a dose of castor oil to correct any disorder of the bowels. Do not use any substitute, but give the old-fashioned castor oil, and see that it is fresh, as rancid oil nauseates and has a tendency to gripe. If this does not check the bowels, give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and then a dose of castor oil, and the disease may be checked in its incipency and all danger avoided. The castor oil and this remedy should be procured at once and kept ready for instant use as soon as the first indication of any bowel trouble appears. This is the most successful treatment known and may be relied upon with implicit confidence, even in cases of cholera infantum. For sale by all Druggists.

The Board of Health of Little Rock, Ark., has ordered that all freight cars out of Birmingham, Gulfport or Mobile, consigned to points in Arkansas, are prohibited from entering the state.

THE LONG AGO

EARLY MAYSVILLE HISTORY

A Recent Death Recalls Many Recollections of the Town

Sunday Morning Call, April 6th, 1884.

VILLE, March 30th, 1884.

Editor of The Morning Call: The recent announcement in the Maysville papers of the death of your venerable citizen, Colonel James Morrison, whom I have often seen at the old "Lee House," where, as a young man, I passed some of the most agreeable hours of my life, revives some pleasant recollections of early times and recalls some interesting local traditions which are fast slipping from popular remembrance. The "Lee House" stood on the Northwest corner of Sutton and Front streets, facing the river. The same building, with sundry additions, is now known, I am informed, as the "Riverside Hotel." Forty years ago this tavern or hotel, which was built by Mr. Peter Lee, was kept by Mrs. Julia Goddard, one of whose daughters had married a Lee; another, a Coburn; another, a Cockrell; and another, our old friend, Captain James Morrison. Though in my tastes wholly a man of the present, and by no means a "laudator" of past times, you will allow me to say that the Lee House, as kept by Mrs. Goddard, was not only the best tavern of those times, but, outside of Louisville, there is no better "hotel" in the state of Kentucky today. If there is any peculiar capacity required to "keep a hotel," Mrs. Goddard was certainly a remarkable woman. At that time, Sutton street was the great thoroughfare of the city, and the Lee House corner was a common place of popular resort. Need I say to any old citizen that it was a brilliant circle that gathered there in the old days—when Dr. Richard Dobyns had the chair, and Colonel Tom Stevenson or Dr. James Cross had the floor? Behind the counter in the office, stood that finest of hotel clerks—Captain Frank Cockrell (son-in-law of Mrs. Goddard); the dignified Charles Hawkins (colored) was the steward, and genial semi-African, "Uncle Davy," was the cook. Looking across the street from the Lee House corner your eye fell upon the "family grocery" of Mr. John Bridges—famously known as "Jack"—who was a carpenter by trade and came to Maysville, I believe, from the county of Fleming. I feel sure that you have no better grocery in your city today than was kept by our friend, Jack, and doubtless it was for this reason that Jack failed to make a fortune at the business; but he was a jolly Jack and in my day had a host of friends among the old boys who participated in his good cheer. I should like to take the old fellow by the hand once more.

On the same corner of Sutton street, in a house that was built by that accomplished architect, Mr. Conrad Phister, there dwelt for many years the family of Mr. Richard H. Lee, who had figured conspicuously in society and politics in my time, and early in his social career had married the brilliant and accomplished Miss Eliza Armstrong, a lady whom I had the pleasure of meeting many years ago during a very gay and splendid season at the old Bluebell Springs. Mr. Lee was universally respected in the community, and while not remarkable for force of character or brilliancy of intellect, had been educated in the best schools of the time and always produced a pleasing impression by his easy, sedate, dignified manners, derived from association with the higher class of that old Virginian school, which, as a school of manners, held the ascendancy in this state at that day. I can see him now—erect, grave, simply dressed—with dark, serious eyes, and close-cut hair slightly tinged with gray.

We pass from the Lee House corner along the West side of Sutton. Here we find the early traces of an historic character. It is not generally known, I believe, that a large portion of the ground on the West side of Sutton, extending some distance on Second street, was once owned and cultivated by Simon Kenton, who purchased the land by the acre of one Benjamin Sutton, after whom the street is named. Sutton, I believe, was the proprietor of a ferry which had its landing at the foot of the present Sutton street, and, if I mistake not, this was the general landing place for all boats touching at Limestone, as Maysville was then called. Old Davy Aldrich (who is still living at Washington I am told) distinctly remembers his participation in a boatman's brawl that once took place in a "boat store" on Sutton street, where your Express office now stands. It was kept at that time by an old man (a German, I believe) by the name of Herbst. A "boat store" was a sort of drinking place and supply store for boatmen,—where anything might be bought, from a "tickle" of Bourbon whisky to a barrel of New Orleans molasses, and it is said that Davy and his fellow-brawlers made a frightful mess of Herbst's miscellaneous commodities—wet and dry. Very nearly opposite the boat store, or grocery of Herbst, there stood in after years the publication office of Lewis Collins, the famous Editor of the great Whig organ, The Maysville "Eagle." Judge Collins was one of the most distinguished men of the day, and has left behind him a number of cultivated and accomplished descendants to illustrate the family name. His son, Richard H. Collins, L.L.D., of Louisville, is the author of a voluminous and valuable history of Kentucky.

On the East side of Sutton, midway between Front and Second, and adjoining the old "boat store" of Herbst, was the celebrated candy store of Jesse Johnson; and further up on the Northeast corner was an old building in which I once witnessed a theatrical representation, the first and most thrilling experience of my life. That corner has since become well known as the business stand of S. S. Miner, (formerly Miner & Crutenden, shoe merchants.) On the opposite corner stood the wine and liquor house of Cutter & Jackson; and, further up between Second and Third, was the old Branch Bank of Kentucky, with soft mannered, silver-haired Horace B. Hill as Cashier. On the Northeast corner of Third and Sutton was formerly a large log house traditionally declared to have been built by one of the Boones—possibly the indomitable Daniel. On the opposite corner, stood the elegant mansion erected by William Phillips, a wealthy speculator, and subsequently occupied by John Armstrong, a useful citizen in his day and generation. Next door to the Branch Bank of Kentucky was a small brick building in which lived my old friend Milton Culbertson and his amiable wife.

I learn from a distinguished local annalist that this building is now owned and occupied by an "Historical Society"—which must prove to be a useful institution if it will carefully gather and preserve the fading records and traditions of the past. My own theory of historical writing is to show up the "bad" with the "good." It is an infamous sort of history that will "white wash" an evil custom or a corrupt fellow. Across the street from Culbertson's stood the great commission and forwarding house of January & Houston. The active partner of this firm—Mr. A. M. January—was a man of great energy and industry, and, it is said, is well represented in the second generation by his son, the Mayor—now, I presume, a prosperous, dignified gentleman of middle age.

We must continue this stroll along Sutton street at some future time. There is a great deal of unwritten personal history to be picked up between the "Fill" and the river, and you would find a sketch of the sagacious old pioneer, Sutton, a contribution of especial interest. Some of his contemporaries ought to be written up for the sake of their descendants. Old Sutton, however, must figure in our local history on his own account. DAIRYMPLER.

BOARD OF TRADE

Number of New Faces Seen at Last Night's Meeting

The Board of Trade met last evening according to announcement, with a fair attendance. A number of new faces were in evidence, which shows that our citizens are interested in keeping up this organization. Plans for usefulness were discussed.

Maysville is to be congratulated upon having an organization of this kind, which has been in existence for almost seven years. Other cities organize Boards of Trade and Commercial Clubs, but they are in many cases but of brief duration. It is only by persistent and continuous effort that anything of importance is accomplished.

Every citizen should rally to the support of the organization that has for its object the building up of Maysville in everything which is calculated to make it a more desirable place in which to live and transact business. Support the Board of Trade.

HIGHEST PRAISE

Some Maysville Citizens Grow Enthusiastic on the Subject.

The praise of the public is merit's just reward. Nothing in modern times has received the praise accorded "The Little Conqueror."

Of some kinds of praise we are skeptical. We doubt the praise of strangers. The highest praise for Maysville public is hearty expression from Maysville people. Doan's Kidney Pills are endorsed in Maysville.

No better proof of merit can be had. Here's a case of it. We have plenty more like it.

James D. Tolle, clerk at Wood & Bros. meat market, and living at 117 Short St., Maysville, Ky., says:

"I was troubled a great deal for some time with constant heavy pain in the small of my back and over the kidneys. At times it was so bad that I could not stoop to sit down or get up without much difficulty. The action of the kidneys was noticeably weakened and passages of the secretions were too frequent, and there was a scalding burning sensation at times. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I began using them and finding great benefit, continued the treatment until I had taken one or two boxes more and was thoroughly cured of all my troubles. I have never had the least bit of suffering from my back or kidneys since. I give all the credit to Doan's Kidney Pills and feel justified in strongly recommending them to others."

Plenty more proof like this from Maysville people. Call at J. James Wood & Son's Drugstore and ask what their customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.
